

Mark Hilton

& the Two Few

BIO

The Two Few are country blues, with urban smarts. Dobro, banjo, mandolin & violin collide in foot-tapping hoe-downs, slinky mood pieces and beautiful sad ballads. Follow the bittersweet storylines, get caught in unpredictable landslides - songs that never forget you.

The lineup features Dan Davies on bull-fiddle, accordion & backing vocals, Toby Robinson on dobro, banjo, mandolin & backing vocals, recent addition Netanela Mizrahi on violin & backing vocals - and prolific songwriter Mark Hilton on acoustic guitar & vocals.

This trio brings together many years of touring experience covering the Byron Bay Blues & Roots Festival, St. Kilda Festival, Brunswick Music Festival, the Adelaide Fringe, the Darwin Festival, the Seabreeze Festival, the Woodford Dreaming Festival, countless pubs & clubs along Australia's east coast and overseas tours to Bali and Vietnam.

QUOTES

"I think your songs are really beautiful"
DON WALKER (Cold Chisel)

"A fantastic lyricist and songwriter. At times as heart-wrenching as running into your first love, while as liberating as hitting the road with the top down, Hilton provides a show to satisfy any mood, with songs off his great new album"
BEK DEVLIN (Adelaide Advertiser)

"Mark Hilton had The LightHouse pumping, accompanied by an all woman string quartet, a band of accomplished gentlemen... he rocked with abandon, loud and dirty"
BEN LANGFORD (NT News - Darwin Festival Review)

"humour and pathos with a rare stamp of originality"
FRED E. GOSTEIN (CitySearch)
